Hi Toby, i was wondering when you guys continue with your story about Tom Tom. As you probably will have noticed a lot of people wanna know the outcome of this story, and most important the prove of your story. You quoted you stick with your story despite denial from Tom Tom. Now the question, reuters is well know for its credibility..when can we expect the next episode? Greet sander

Hi Sander. I'm not sure what you mean by "prove" our story. We reported what we reported, and TomTom sent the denial that they sent (which we of course incorporated in our story -- we also asked them for comment before we published it, but then they declined). If we have more to report, it will appear on our wire and I can't tell you beforehand. In any case it's not as if we can force TomTom to do or say anything -- or as if we are hoping for one outcome or another. We just report what we know.

All best,

Toby
